

Corn Growers Club.

Between $15,000 and $20,000 in cash will be distributed in prizes in this State to winners of corn growing contests conducted by the Corn Growers Club. O. S. R. H. has given prizes to the State. Almost every county except Gallatin organizing the corn growing club amongst boys of the common schools, and in every county there has been raised by popular subscription, not less than $75 and in many instances as high as $150 to be given as prizes to young corn growers. Henry county leads all the other counties with the largest contribution, $172 having already been raised in that county and the prospects are that it will go over $200. The purpose of the club is to interest the boys of the State in farming and to teach how to grow corn. As the boys are to be the future farmers of the State it is hoped that the corn growing contests will result in increased yield of corn in the whole State in a few years. So far some fine records have been made by the boys in the contests and through these boys farmers are being taught seed corn selection and how to increase the yield of corn. The corn growing contests have aroused considerable interest throughout the State. In Henry county there is going to be a corn growers day and the winning corn growers will be given a banquet. In other counties there is the spirit of rivalry in the growing of corn and this is expected to bring results. —Farmers Home Journal.

Terrible Accident.

Mr. Harley Jones met with a terrible accident here Tuesday afternoon. He had driven into town in his wagon to get some repairs done at J. E. Settles' shop, and while he was waiting Mr. Settles in his work, picked up a horse shoe to be nailed. He stooped to it with the hammer and one of the nails flew out and embedded itself in the left eye of Mr. Jones, who was seated about twenty-five feet distant. The injured man pulled the nail from his eye and was taken immediately to the office of Dr. Carroll Price where the wound was dressed, but it is now believed that sight is completely destroyed. Mr. Jones has been suffering much pain from his injury, and he has the sympathy of all in this unfortunate occurrence. Harrodsburg Herald.

Remarkable Accident.

Richmond, Ky., April 18.—The front of the boiler of the electric company here blew out last night, causing an explosion of the fly wheel, which demolished an engine, tore off the roof and blew both ends out of the building. The damage is estimated at $12,000, covered by insurance. The marvelous feature of the accident is that the engineer, Stafford Parker, was in the midst of the affair and escaped without a scratch. —Louisville Times.

PLATFORM

Proposed by Wm Addams Candidate for Governor

William Addams, of Cynthiana, the first candidate of the Democratic candidates for State Office to make a declaration of principles, or rather to make known his position on some of the real live issues of the day. Mr. Addams is a candidate for the nomination for Governor and he made formal announcement of his candidacy last Saturday.

There are ten planks in the platform which he advocates and he will add several more to it during the week. In his announcement Mr. Addams says he stands for the following:

Stringent educational laws that will secure more schools, better teachers in order to secure competency and such a system of schools as will insure equal opportunity to all children. Constitutional revision of the tax laws. All legislation necessary to bring the roads of Kentucky to the highest state of efficiency. State Bank Inspection. Bringing the militia up to the highest standard of efficiency and freeing same from politics. Organization and co-operation between farmers as well as between other laboring men, whether they labor in the field, factory, store, or wherever wage is earned. Such legislation as would improve the relation between capital and labor.

NO RELIGIOUS TEST

The strict enforcement of that portion of article 6, of the Constitution of the United States which reads as follows: "No religious test shall ever be required for any qualification for any office or public trust."

Election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

The strict enforcement of all laws on the statute books.

While Mr. Addams has been in the field for some time, being the nomination for Governor, little attention was paid to his candidacy until the last few days. Now that the anti-McCarty men have failed in their efforts to bring out a candidate to oppose the Madison county man it appears that they have finally decided to support Mr. Addams. If he musters all of the anti-McCarty strength, Mr. Addams will be a formidable candidate. He is a man of means and can well afford to make an organization. —Argus in Louisville Herald.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Edith Oder Files Suit Against Sam Oder. Were Married Here

Edith Oder, who says she is a school girl and fifteen years of age, is the plaintiff in a suit for divorce filed in the office of the Circuit Clerk. Sam Oder is named as the defendant to the petition, which was prepared by J. Reginald Clements.

Sheep Scabies To Be Stamped Out.

The fight against sheep scabies in this State is to be turned over to the National Government, which will put a force of inspectors in Kentucky to assist the county live stock inspectors, and it is believed that the disease in the sheep can be stamped out by next winter with the determined methods which will be adopted. Five or six inspectors under the direction of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Government will be sent to Kentucky at once to take up the fight and later ten more inspectors who are now at work in other states, will be put into Kentucky.

This plan of action was decided upon at a meeting of the State Live Stock Sanitary Board when a representative of the United States Government was present. It was agreed at the meeting that Mason, Washington and Nelson counties are the worst infected of any of the counties which have been visited. In these counties, it is stated, little has been done toward stamping out. The Fiscal Court in each county has promised to do what could be done to fight the pest.

Scabies in sheep has cost the sheep breeders of Kentucky a great deal of money, and it is regarded as important to have the disease eliminated as quickly as possible. Through the newspapers the farmers have been informed and aroused to the danger that exists, and they have begun to do all they can to aid in the war against scabies. —Spencer Courier.

Found Dead In Barn.

Enoch Morris was found dead in the barn of Mr. T. M. Estes, Friday morning by hands employed about the place. He was born in Taylor county 28 years ago and was a son of William Morris. For a number of years he was employed by Estes' mother, the late Mrs. Sallie E. Ray, and in late years he has been employed at the electric light plant.

He was an honest and industrious young man. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. P. Baird at the Estes residence Saturday afternoon, and interment was in Rider cemetery.

Deceased boarded at the Brinley Hotel, and the only reason that can be assigned for his being at Mr. Estes' place where he fell ill and probably came there in the night. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that death resulted from heart disease. —Marion Falcon.

Farmer In Rack.

J. C. Bullock, a Pulaski county farmer, went to his barn Thursday and, finding a snake at the hayrack, got up the feed trough to take it back and stuck his head through the hole and nailed himself up, and before he released himself threw the hammer to the ground. The barn was a great distance from the house, he could not make any one hear his cries and he had to stay penned up in the rack from early morning until late in the afternoon when his son came to feed him. He was in such a cramped condition that when liberated he fainted. —Harrodsburg Herald.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Edith Oder Files Suit Against Sam Oder. Were Married Here

Edith Oder, who says she is a school girl and fifteen years of age, is the plaintiff in a suit for divorce filed in the office of the Circuit Clerk. Sam Oder is named as the defendant to the petition, which was prepared by J. Reginald Clements. The plaintiff states that the defendant can be found at Ashbrook, Anderson county, Ky., and that he is twenty-two years of age. She alleges that she had only a bare acquaintance with the defendant, and that while on a visit to relatives in Washington county she was married to the defendant on October 30, 1910, by a marriage ceremony obtained by the defendant through fraud and duress, and that therefore she and the defendant are to that extent husband and wife.

The plaintiff further states she is a resident of Jefferson county, "that there is no reason why she should not be restored to her maiden name of Edith Brown."

The defendant according to the petition, lived in Washington county where the plaintiff knew him.

Mr. Clements, attorney for the plaintiff says that Miss Brown now Mrs. Oder, had met the defendant several times, and on one occasion he asked her to go Springfield with him. She agreed according to the girl's story, and rode with Oder and his brother in one vehicle, while her mother and a friend rode in a vehicle which was ahead.

When near Springfield the vehicles took separate roads, and Oder and his brother went to a deputy to secure a marriage license.

Mrs. Oder according to Mr. Clements did not realize what she was doing, and as the proposal of marriage, the securing of the license and the subsequent wedding all came so suddenly, she was hardly aware of what had happened until she was Mrs. Oder. The marriage ceremony, Mr. Clements says, was performed at the home of Mrs. Oder's brother, but she does not recall his name. —Post.

Fatally Shoots Himself Gunning For Hawk.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., April 13.—John Bruner accidentally shot and killed himself at the home of his father, Sam Bruner, near Petty, in the western part of the county. Bruner had borrowed a shotgun from a friend's store, time before, saying he wanted to shoot a chicken hawk.

His family heard the report of gun but thought nothing of it, and he was found lying near the henhouse later by some small children. A dangerous wound was discovered in his temple.

He died in an hour. He was a brother of Ira Bruner, who was killed in Louisville during the "Home Coming" week of 1909, and was a respected citizen of the western part of the county. He is survived by a wife and one small son. —Ex.

Farmer's Will.

A farmer in a neighboring county made his will a short time ago and was well pleased with it. It was sent to a court to be admitted to probate. The document was presented in court where it was read. The witnesses were present and testified to its authenticity and the county judge ordered it to be recorded. The clerk proceeded to transcribe the order, and while in the midst of the process casually inquired the date of the decedent's death. He was greatly surprised when the two witnesses informed him there was no decedent, the man who made the will was not only sound of mind, and disposing of mood, but was sound of body and looked to be good for at least ten more years of life, liberty and happiness of the everyday brand. He was unaware that dying was a necessary formality to be gone through in advance of the admission of a will to probate, he just wanted the document recorded in order that he might know that everything was fixed up all right, and might thereby enjoy that peace of mind that he supposed would come to the man who has his house in order for the inevitable moment when Old Mortality calls time. When the clerk became apprised of the extraordinary situation there was a lively sensation in court. The judge rescinded the order and the witnesses who had presented it were told to return it to "said decedent" along with proper instructions as to future proceedings. It probably struck the methodical farmer as a kind of gothicland curious piece of business, and the court perhaps thought similarly. There is no reason to believe, however, that the farmer will be in any hurry about complying with the conditions that are prerequisite to the probating of a will. It is likely he has consorted himself with the reflection that his lawyer "knows" and has dropped the precious document back in the clock and proceeded with the ordinary affairs of agricultural life. —Ex.

Death of Young Man.

Frank Thompson, aged about twenty-five years, son of Mr. J. S. Thompson, died on Thursday, April 13, at the home of his parents three miles from town on the Glynn Run Pike. Deceased was a young man endowed with those mental and moral qualities which make life successful and desirable, a worthy preparation for eternity, and to the country he seemed full of promise and of joy. He wished to linger with the deposed and loved home circle, the father and mother, the sisters and brothers, and to realize the legitimate ambitions which seemed within his grasp; yet when it became only too evident that the time was near for the summons to his father's home, meekly the faithful soul bowed in submission accepting the "fat" with true Christian resignation and hope. After funeral services conducted by St. Thomas church, on Saturday, April 15, interment took place in St. Joseph's cemetery. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, deceased is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Laville Cissell, Bowling Green; Misses Sallie, Florence and Margaret Thompson and three brothers, Mr. Bernard Thompson, Master Ben Thompson of Nelson county, and Mr. Henry Thompson of Louisville. —Harrodsburg Standard.

Quickly Cures Coughs, Colds and Catarrh

If you, dear reader could spend a few hours looking over the thousands of testimonials we have on file, you would not go on suffering from catarrh, that ever recurring ailment, but would surely say your vitality and weaken your entire system it allowed to continue. You would have just as much faith in HYOMEL as we have, and we have so much confidence in its wonderful curative virtue that it is our guarantee to cure catarrh, cough, cold, throat, coughs and colds or money back.

Not much gained when you breathe HYOMEL. Just pour a few drops of the liquid in the inhaler, and breathe it in.

It is mighty pleasant to use; it opens up the stuffed up nostrils in two minutes and makes your head as clear as a bell in a short time. Breathe HYOMEL and kill the catarrh germs. It's the only way to get rid of that hacking, snuffling and spitting.

A complete HYOMEL outfit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEL and a hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00 at drug stores everywhere. Write to Hayden & Willett, if you desire a HYOMEL inhaler you can get an extra bottle of HYOMEL for 10 cents.

No matter how often you sacrifice money for principle, how well you hit the nail on the head in regard to some question how much you try to influence the public mind for good, no encouraging voice says, "Well done, old fellow; keep it up." The only approving voice you hear is the one of ambition that knows your own weakness, lures you farther and farther out on the rough seas of journalism, until, like that of matrimony, you must stick to it for better, for worse (and the worst is always coming) or come back poorer (and it is always poorer) until the empty pocket and stomach can stand it no more and you are called up higher where, let us hope, all unpaid subscriptions are cashed in.

One picture you now giving these confessions to your wife, she who has long since forgotten the taste of candy, just as she receives no flowers except those that bloom in the springtime. When she tastes the delightful flavor it will recall that evening in your room at her father's house, when you devoted yourself to a much needed pair of socks (knowing your wife would hide the deficiency) and bought her a box of candy. How odorous with sweet memories was that night. The moonlight was like molten gold to you in your room at her father's house, for love had restored confidence, for love brought back the purest strains of devotion to the stoutest feminine heart.

THANK YOU

The Ladies Aid Society of the Christian church held an Easter candy sale last week. The Editors of the NEWS-LEADER were remembered with a very fine box of candy for their wives, which was very much appreciated. The following letter written by a member of the Society accompanied the candy:

"With greetings from this may prove false to you, dear editors, I beg that you accept these boxes of candy for your respective wives, as a slight token of my appreciation for your free advertising of our candy sale."

You know better than I. who was once an indigent editor (pardon the superfluous word 'indigent,' it being a synonym for 'editor') the jolly thankfulness of the job.

You make all brides beautiful and popular, all weddings as though they were pages from But the day, all grooms worthy and prosperous. You make success possible to charitable affairs and then you attend them, and must perform duty from your frayed old jeans the lonely prayer, feeling like a culprit as you do, for this due the printer, the devil must be given his due, loom ominously before you. So no friendly voice says: "Come, Mr. Editor, have a saucer of cream with me; it was so perfectly lovely of you not to charge us for our ad."

No matter how often you sacrifice money for principle, how well you hit the nail on the head in regard to some question how much you try to influence the public mind for good, no encouraging voice says, "Well done, old fellow; keep it up."

You were palpitating with ambition. You felt that the world could not remain cold and callous with such a genuine burning wish in it. Your editorials were sure to receive recognition from the metropolitan press. Henry Watterson would be asked to resign from the Courier Journal staff in your favor, and you, instead of being in your room at her father's house, would be in Spain and Henry Watterson would be in Italy, and the C. J. High hopes faded to other points than warm heartiness, they vanish on cold presses, their rosy hues fading to plain black and white.

Yes, you still remain a far more potent influence than the editors of city papers—if not so well remunerated—and we trust that appreciation is not remote even though belated and from one in your ranks of the defeated, who is now in the position of the job that goes to the head line maker—also the back to earth movement occasioned by the deprivation incident to an empty purse.

So we thank you for helping us in our charity, and also thank you for the confidence that makes us an object of charity, remember the greatest of these.

Rain Causes Thousands of Dollars Damage

The continuous rains have been the cause of thousands of dollars loss to the farmers in Jefferson county. The potato and the corn crops are practically destroyed, and the resultant loss will be severely felt by the growers.

The loss is due to the fact that the crops have been planted only a short time ago, and the down-pour has rotted the "eyes" in the fields. Besides losing their crops the farmers will be compelled to lose a great deal of time in the replanting.

Jefferson county is one of the largest potato markets in the world, "morphies" from this section being shipped to all parts of the country.

Hundreds of carloads also go to foreign ports. The selected specimens from what is known as the first crop have won prizes on numerous occasions.

Spencer county has also felt the destructive rain, but not to such an extent as Jefferson.

CREEKS ON RAMPAGE.

Floyd's Fork, one of the largest streams in Jefferson and the neighboring counties, has rapidly risen and farmers are considerably worried over the way it is booming. Fences, barns, roads, and crops near its course have been damaged and a loss of several thousand dollars is feared if the rain continues.

The smaller creeks and streams are on a rampage and are causing serious losses.

Salt River is on the boom and the fishermen and residents along its bed will be compelled to abandon their homes very soon. Kossuth and Shelby's are also water soaked. Mill creek which runs through that neighborhood, has overflowed its banks and parts of the tracks of the Oreil line have been submerged.

Farmers in the low districts along the Ohio river, near West Union will be compelled to move if the rain continues.

Corpse Came To Life.

Macon, Ga., April 14.—Those mourners who gathered about the casket, containing the body of Fanny Warren, a congress, at Eatonton yesterday, were thrown into a panic when Fanny suddenly came back to life. The supposed corpse nearly broke open the cover of the coffin, and the mourners fled from the scene when they heard the noise of the casket breaking. An undertaker removed the lid and assisted the woman out. She is now under the care of a doctor. —Louisville Evening Post.

Attempt To Lynch Detective.

Providence, Ky., April 13.—That a mob attempt to take a detective John Sensing, of Nashville, out of the hotel at Providence last Saturday, and was held at bay at the point of shotguns, was made public here to-day.

Sensing was employed by a public committee to investigate the mysterious murder of Henry Thompson here last December, and gave testimony before the Grand jury now sitting at Dixon. Sensing arrived in Providence Saturday night and went to the hotel, and about midnight a mob went to the hotel and demanded that Sensing come outside. The marshal was sent for and threatened to shoot into the crowd if they did not disperse.

Sensing and the hotel proprietor sat on the balcony of the hotel, and about midnight a mob went to the hotel and demanded that Sensing come outside. The marshal was sent for and threatened to shoot into the crowd if they did not disperse.

Barglar on Litsay Avenue.

On Friday night while Mr. Isaac Roe, who lives on Litsay avenue, was sitting up with a sick neighbor, a burglar entered his room by raising a window. Mrs. Roe heard him, and thinking of the children had fallen out of bed, went into the room to see about the little ones, and saw the man. He was unable to say whether he was black or white. She left and hurried to the neighbors to notify Mr. Roe, and the intruder made his escape. —Harrodsburg Herald.

SPRINGFIELD, KY.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

JAMES R. NOE JOSEPH POLIN Editors and Publishers.

THURSDAY, APR. 12, 1912.

We are authorized to announce JOHN A. POLIS
as a candidate for Representative in the lower house of the Kentucky Legislature from Washington county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The official census of 1910 gives the number of inhabitants in Springfield as 1,229. This is indeed disappointing, not that we feel that the city has not done its part in growing, but that the country. We believe the last ten years have been the most prosperous decade in her history. Business has been better and people have come here from outside towns. We believe that we are correct when we say that the official figures are about 400 short. The corporate limits of the city comprise a large area and there are a large number of houses occupied and for the most part by large families. Had the census been taken a few years ago when there were so many houses vacant in the city, then the figures might have seemed more reasonable, but under conditions that existed in 1910 we think the figures too short.

A special from Lexington says that W. F. E. Blair, who for six consecutive terms has been the Representative in the Legislature from this city, and is one of the best known and most active Democratic leaders in central Kentucky, has authorized the formal announcement that he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner from this (the second) railroad commissioner district and stated that he would at once begin an active campaign for the honor.

Congressman Ollie James fired his opening gun in his campaign for United States Senator at Nicholasville, Monday. He said that his opponent, Senator T.
H. Paynter was retrogressive and not progressive. He severely criticized him for his stand as a member of the Lorimer investigating committee in voting and using his efforts to help Lorimer retain his seat, and said that the many copies of Lorimer's speech that have flooded the State recently have been sent to men whose names were mailed last week by a congressman's register. He attacked Mr. Paynter's record as a congressman, saying that he had not been regular in attendance upon the business of Congress, and had not represented the State more than one-third of the time. He charged him with disloyalty to his party, saying that he had taken sides with the Republicans on a number of trusts. That when he was elected he was a Paynter (painter) but that now he was a Republican "whitewasher."

Hon. Wm. Adams opened his campaign at Nicholasville Monday, after Mr. James had enclosed his speech. He declared himself in favor of better schools and better pay for teachers, and for a constitutional revision of the laws of the State.

Pension Agent A. T. Wood, has issued a statement declaring himself in favor of the nomination of E. F. Frank for Governor by the Republican party. He scored Judge O'Rear, and informed that he was opposed to the enforcement of the law against the night riders, and said that when the night rider crusade was in K. K. K., Frank did not look over the back fence, and say that you could not suppress lawlessness with bayonets.

Mr. R. S. Eubank, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was in town yesterday shaking hands with the voters. Mr. Eubank is a man of wide experience in school affairs and has been editor of the Southwest School Journal since 1905.
He is said to be a very efficient

Easter Services.

Easter Sunday was fittingly celebrated in all the churches this year. The day was held and large crowds were in attendance at all the churches. At St. Rose, a solemn high mass was sung at 8 o'clock by Rev.
Father Hasenfus. Father Ennis and Kennedy were deacon and sub-deacon, respectively.

The music rendered by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Edie Robertson was beautiful and suitable to the occasion. Each member seemed at his best, and the solos were subjects of much favorable comment. Father Ennis delivered in eloquent style, the Easter sermon. It was a very scholarly discourse on the Victory of Christ's Resurrection.

The ladies of the parish had taken great pains in decorating the church and its brilliant appearance on Easter Morn was a sufficient reward for their efforts.

At St. Dominic's high mass was sung by Father Honeysey and special music was rendered by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Jodie Spaulding.

Services appropriate to the occasion were held in all the Protestant churches of the city and Easter sermons were delivered by the pastors.

New Manager.

The people of this community will regret to learn that Mr. A.
J. Miller, who for the last eight-teen months has been manager of the Cumberland Telephone Co., at this place, has been assigned to a position at Eminence, Ky. Mr. Miller and his family made many friends while here and the people of Springfield regret to lose them. Mr. Miller was a popular manager, taking the best care of the company's interests and willing to give customer any favors within his power.

Mr. T. T. Austin, of Eminence, has been assigned to the position of manager at this place. He is a young man and comes well recommended.

Wide Awake.

On entering Willisburg, one cannot but be forcibly impressed with the fact that it is no sleeping town, but on the contrary is wide awake and active all the time judging by the improvements that are now being made.
The all new court house adds splendor to the place. A splendid school house has just been completed, and there is just now under construction a large storehouse erected on the site of the old lively stable. In addition to this quite a number of handsome residences are being erected in different parts of the city. Business in all lines seems brisk and the city's prospects for growth are indeed bright.

Mr. B. Graham was in Harrardsburg, Thursday.

Mrs. Ernest Poulter returned to her home near Bloomfield, Saturday, after spending the week with relatives here.

Mr. Charles Gibson, of Cardwell, was in town Thursday, his mission developed in a horse trade with Mr. Crouch.

Bill Brains attended a wedding the other day and gave strict attention to the ceremony until the humble old minister said marriage was a sacred institution. Right there we dissolved.
I could not see why marriage was sacred when it consisted of two people taking out license to quarrel and fight.

Mr. J. P. Bowen who has been in Lexington during the past week returned to his home on the Kirkland road, Saturday.

Mr. Dennis Simpson and wife, of Cardwell, spent Thursday with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Robnson of Mooresville are spending a few days with G. W. Bowen and family.

Don't worry Miss Buttery you will find me out later as I am going to treat every correspondent to a rutabaga.

Mr. Ed Crouch, of the Rock-bridge community was in our midst Friday.

Look out for Grava-Hopper and his latest girl in that new carpet. Why, don't you know they will shine like Castor and Pollux.

I think if the Antioch correspondent in classing Bill as a little shrimp would devote more time to the study of a theological and not so much to out zoology and etymology, you could certainly from the both see the difference in your comparison.

R. C. Bryant and his mother will leave Saturday for Bloomington where they will spend a Politics and matrimony seem to be the rage in Sharpville.

Gee whizz, the thoughts of both Bill's temperature stand two hundred in the shade.

BA Mr. Hardin, from Antioch, came over to Sharpville, Friday, trying to investigate the particulars connected with his son's elopement Sunday night with a fair little maid of that community. But the man has up against it, and he should have received the same lesson young lad of fifteen becomes intoxicated, marriage is like a game of cards to him. It does not make any difference what kind of a hand he draws, he will stay in the game.

Mr. J. A. Kyler, of Cardwell, was here Friday on business.

Mrs. G. W. and J. F. Bowen were in Vanzandall Saturday.

Bill Brains has made a considerable change in his habitation.
Watch in the NEWS-LEADER each week and you will probably see his photo.

Mr. George Kyler, of Willis-burg, came over Friday and he spent the day with his sister, Mrs. Taylor Long.

—Mr. J. F. Robinson has purchased a large amount of wool throughout the Cumberland county and has been busy for the past few days delivering sacks. Also Mr. Jim F. Bowen is interested in the wool-sack business in the Seaville community.

The question for debate with Judge Prosser who has just returned into the milling business is a question of dollars and cents. But it is: If it continues wet, where will the next turn come from. But oh, you Judge, don't worry, He who knows all things will no doubt supply you abundantly.

Everett True is something awful. But be an the lookout for the outburst of Bill Brains.

Magistrates Court.

Saturday was the regular term of Esquire Nimrod Henderson's Court. There were several cases on the docket but all except one were continued or dismissed settled. In the case of S. C. obinson vs. Robert Snyder, there was a hot contest. The case resulted in a hung jury but the parties afterwards settled their differences themselves.

RED LIGHT No. 2272

In Vpl. VI. A. S. H. B. A.

Sired by Lightfoot Brumwell 1324, he by Dean Brumwell 800.
Dam Daisy Glen 7621, A. S. H. B. A. by C. C. Gann's Glen Brook.
Description—Red Sorrell, stripe in face, two short stockings, 15-14 bands, weight 1100, very smooth, head and neck like a golding. A neat blemish near a weak spot about him. Seven years old.
Has been shown in harness rings, roadster rings, five gaited saddle rings, conchings rings, double team rings, and was shown when a three year old for best stallion and three of his colts, got of that year, and he only three colts and he won that. In 1910 he made his first show at Harlan county fair and lost. He won first every show he made the remainder of the year, showing, including the Peninsula Horse Show, Ky. State Fair and Tenn. State Fair. He made his last show at the Horse Show at Clarksville Tenn., and won first in the $300 harness stake for stallions, mares and geldings, with sixteen horses in the ring. He is breeding very strong after himself. About three-fourths of his colts are sorrels and gold gutted. I have a two-year-old sorrel sired by him that I think without a doubt is the best prospect in Kentucky, much better than his sire at the same age.
Here you have a chance to breed to a horse that is colored right, bred right, breeds right, gaited right and is right, and the price is right. He has proven himself to be a winning show horse in the best company he have in Kentucky and Tennessee. He will make the season of 1912 at Knob Creek Stock Farm, LaGrange county.

$25 To Insure a Living Colt Mares kept on pasture at $2 per month. If colt grain will be charged for cost value; I intend to this business myself so percentage will be taken but I will not be responsible should any damage occur.

S. J. THOMPSON,

Hodenville, R. F. D. No. 3. Albertonville, Ky.

Noble Denmark

Sired by the Great Highland Denmark, 1st dam by the Kentucky and Missouri Champion Saddle Horse, Thurston Star, 2d dam by Art Ross, he by Artist and out of a Miss Rose mare.

Noble Denmark is a great bred saddle horse having the blood of the best saddle sires. He is a chestnut 15 hands 3 inches high, a horse of good action both at rack and trot and strictly sound.
Last year with little feed training he proved himself a successful show horse in good company. As a breeder his first season of colts won first and second in all their last fair. He and his colts won the best ring and he won for finest stallion, mare or gelding, also other premiums in his class. Mr. Shropshire who trained Edna Mae, Red McDonald and other noted show horses, has had Noble Denmark in training the past winter and says he is the best gaited Saddle Denmark he ever saw, also there was not a finer horse within 100 miles of Lexington. Jubert, Bowles says he is the best type for a three gaited Stallion he knows of. Matt Cohen said he remembered and was gaited very much like the champion saddle horse Star McDonald.

Ask owners of good mares to study his breeding, gait, his breeding and soundness and compare him to any other horse bred anywhere. Your motto should be always breed to the best, and you know who keeps the best, for I have owned the only Stallion in Washington county that has sired a premium colt for the last ten years. Your past patronage has been appreciated and ask for a continuance of same as I believe I am offering a stallion which has no superior in this or any adjoining counties. Noble Denmark will stand

At $20 To Insure a Living Colt

Monte Wood

I will also stand the well known breeder, Monte Wood, also known as the horse W. C. H. has never the best for service and All who tried him liked him. He was sired by Deafwood, he by Monte Cristo, 60, and 1st dam by Mark Diamond 50. Monte Wood's first dam by Edwin Forrest. He is a dark bay 15 hands 3 in. high, a horse with plenty of bone and substance and has a number of good mares and geldings in Washington county. Season fee $10.00

I will stand any two male Jacks at 10 to insure a living colt.
Mares bred to this stock traded off or bred to other stock season money 400. Mares pastured at $2.00 per month.
